VTTV × ArcelorMittal South Africa

A Trusted Partnership in Compliance Excellence Since 2012

In 2012, ArcelorMittal South Africa — one of the continent’s most complex and high-risk industrial environments — set out to strengthen its compliance culture across multiple sites. They needed a partner who could translate regulations into practical action, support managers with clarity, and empower frontline teams with confidence.

They chose VTTV.

For more than a decade, VTTV has stood alongside ArcelorMittal as a dedicated compliance partner, helping shape safer workplaces, stronger operational discipline, and a culture where standards are lived daily. What began as a training initiative has evolved into a strategic collaboration built on trust, transparency, and measurable impact.

A Partnership Built on Shared Values

Together, VTTV and ArcelorMittal have worked to:

- Strengthen compliance awareness across diverse teams
- Deliver practical, scenario-based training aligned to steel-industry realities
- Support managers with tools that simplify oversight
- Align site practices with national and global standards
- Build a culture where safety and compliance are non-negotiable

A Decade of Impact

VTTV has supported ArcelorMittal through:

- Multi-site compliance training
- On-site support for managers and supervisors
- Continuous improvement of training materials
- Clear, structured communication that empowers teams

Strengthening Compliance Culture Across a High-Risk Industry

Background

ArcelorMittal South Africa operates in one of the most demanding industrial environments. In 2012, the organisation sought a partner who could help elevate compliance awareness, streamline training, and support managers with practical tools.

The Challenge

- Diverse teams across multiple sites
- Complex operational risks
- Need for consistent, practical compliance training
- High expectations for safety and regulatory alignment

The VTTV Solution

VTTV delivered a multi-layered approach:

- On-site compliance training tailored to steel-industry realities
- Scenario-based learning that connects standards to daily tasks
- Manager support tools for oversight and accountability
- Continuous updates to training materials as regulations evolved

The Results

- Stronger compliance culture
- Improved operational discipline
- Better alignment across sites
- Empowered managers and frontline teams
- A long-term partnership built on trust and measurable impact
